Theme

We decided on the theme of the growth of a tree this year. Throughout the years at Trinity, we all grow in many ways- in our relationships, in our faith, and in our academic knowledge.

Events

Move-In Day

The campus was abuzz with excitement this year on moving day. The move-in crew, as they always have, sported cool t-shirts that displayed a bright orange shopping cart so that the new freshman could hunt them down. As residents filled the halls there was a sense of great excitement in the air. Not only did this day serve as the marker for a new school year, but also many new friendships.

Saturday Night Live

During the first week that freshman are on college, many groups provide different forms of entertainment for the new members of the community. One of the favorite activities that orientation week holds is Saturday Night Live. This night features skits from the residence life staff, Student Activities and FYF. This year's night of laughs was visited by the Target Lady, Lady Gaga, and even the Duchess Kate Middleton, and the night was deemed a success.

Jazz Night

Jazz Night, or as some refer to it, Black and White Night, was a smashing success.

Many students got dressed up in black and white attire to attend a night full of the soothing sounds of Trinity's own Jazz Band.

During the course of the year, each residence hall is in charge of putting on events that give students something to do. This year, South Hall hosted a very successful Open Mic Night that drew crowds from all different halls and South was filled to the brim.

Open Mic Night

Troll Trot

As an opener to Homecoming weekend at Trinity, the annual Troll Trot was held. The Troll Trot is a 5k run that usually draws quite a few runners and quite the crowd. This year there were many students, alumni, and faculty that all participated in the run as a way to show pride and support in our college.

Run Trolls, run!

Designed after a game show on T.V., this night involved several minute challenges that teams had to complete. Even though everybody who came to this night didn't participate, it was incredibly fun to watch and laugh along with those who competed.

Minute to Win It

Academic Initiative is another group on campus that plans lots of fun events for students to attend, that usually involve something that centers on academics. This year, AI hosted a spelling bee that was attended by several students.

Spelling Bee

Halloween Dance

West Hall, among the other things that it is known for, has always hosted dances. This year, the residents of West Hall tried re-vamping the interest that the freshmen and the rest of the campus used to show in dances. The hall council of West Hall put together a Halloween dance as a way to do this. Many came over to West dressed up in costumes, ready to have a great time. Two West residents DJ'd the dance and there was even a strobe light among all of the other colorful lights that illuminated the room.

Trollerskating

During October, Student Activities planned Trollerskating, a night where students could dress up in costumes and go to the local roller rink to skate. This is one of the most popular events that Student Activities hosts all year. This year was no exception, and students from all classes and buildings came out and had a fantastic time skating and hanging out with friends.

Girls + Football = Powder Puff. This year, the weather for the annual Powder Puff tournament was actually wonderful. The cool crisp air nipped at the noses of the four teams that assembled early that October morning. After many, or not so many, practices, South Hall and West Hall faced off, while Alumni and Tibstra went head to head on fields next to each other. Although both battles were fought hard, South and Alumni were the victors and faced off in the championship game while West and Tibstra fought for the consolation championship title. Alumni came out on top, and Tibstra won the consolation championship. Every girl gave it their all, and it was very entertaining for all those who came and supported.

Powderpuff Football

This year, there were two art raids held in the Fireside room. Both nights, live music was provided along with snacks and different crafts to be done. A favorite activity of those who attended the art raids was the screen printing of t-shirts. Along with the screen printing, there was hemp bracelet making, and henna tattoos. The Fair Trade fair was also represented at the art raid with the many beautiful and interesting things that they sell to support fair trade in impoverished countries. The art raids are known for being fun nights that not only provide something to do on weekends, but they also support a good cause.

Art Raid

Trollstock

Dancing, singing, poetry, music, humor: all of these things are only a few of the ingredients that made Trollstock the amazingly fun night that it was. Trollstock, sponsored and planned by Student Activities, has been one of the most greatly anticipated events of each school year, and is a time tested tradition of this campus. Students prepare all sorts of acts, try out and then eventually perform on the stage of the auditorium in the Ozinga Chapel. The auditorium is usually packed; and this year was no exception. Students dropped everything to spend a Friday night together laughing and enjoying the talents of select individuals from this community. Fun was definitely had by all who came.

All My Sons

This year's fall play was simply fantastic. The actors who participated in this show were incredibly talented, and captured the attention of everybody who came to watch. The play, entitled All My Sons and written by Arthur Miller is a very serious and heart wrenching play. During the course of two and a half hours, the audience was whisked away to 1947, swept into a blossoming romance, and taken deep into a family's multiple tragedies. There were very few dry eyes that left the Kalamazoo Theatre all four nights that the play ran. One highlight, besides the overall brilliant outcome of this play, was the engagement of Alyssa Guerrin, a cast member of the play after curtain call. Those who left the show said that they have rarely gone through that much of an emotional roller coaster. This play will remain a fond memory of all those who participated and watched, as it was one incredibly touching play.

December One Acts

In the Theatre Department, part of a Senior Theatres senior year is directing one-act plays (plays that are shorter than normal). This year, there were several seniors who directed these one-acts. During the first round of plays in October, Julie Wiltjer,

Dan Thayer, and Shannon Smith all directed their one-acts, together creating an incredibly enjoyable evening for all who came out to watch. In December, the duo of Alisha Reepma (check spelling) and Dave Hoekman and the solo directorship of Josh Moore created yet another great night to those who came to enjoy a night of two very contrasting plays.

Trinity's community celebrates Christmas in many ways, and one of the favorite ways to do so is to attend Jazzin Around the Christmas Tree. This celebration happens annually and draws out many members of the community as they sit and listen to jazz Christmas music. Not only is it the jazz band that performs, but the night also features singers. This night is a wonderful way to start out the Christmas season.

Jazzin Around the Christmas Tree

AI Bingo Night was another fun night that Trinity's community shared. Many came out to support AI and play a super fun game of Bingo.

Bingo

Black Light Dance

The Black Light dance was one of the 2011-2012 highlights. Hosted by Student Activities and held in the black box theatre in the ARCC, many people flocked to have a night of fun. Students came clad in white and neon colors and were met at the doors by Student Activities members that gave each student glow in the dark necklaces and bracelets. The Theatre was packed from start to finish and the night went down as one of the best nights this year.

Trollway to Love

Love was in the air this February at Trinity. Trollway to Love is an annual event hosted by West Hall resident's life. This year, the four couples that so graciously participated were Antonio Alicea and Jeanette Perez, Chris and Amanda Bohle, Jessica Jacobi and Tom Salzmann, and Kyle VanEerden and Alisha Reepma. After being drilled with questions about their relationship, the night ended it a tie of Chris and Amanda and Antonio and Jeanette. This tie was resolved with a tug-of-war competition that was won by Antonio and Jeanette. Over two-hundred students came out to enjoy this beloved event.

Southies Tavern

Southies Tavern is a highly anticipated night around campus. Although it is a very fun night that showcases Trinity's improve team and serves virgin drinks, the night holds a deeper meaning. In order to be allowed upstairs to participate in the fun, each student needs to sit through one short testimonial about how alcohol can be very dangerous when not used legally and in the right way. This year, Amanda Bohle and a Police Officer told stories with Trinity's community in regards to how alcohol has played a role in their lives. Afterward, South Hall was packed with several students that had a wonderful time in community with each other.

Hoops Happening

Hoops Happening is one of the most anticipated nights of the year. Perhaps it is because it marks the start of the March Madness season, but perhaps it is because the cafeteria serves up some of the best food of the year. Not only do students eat soft pretzels, hot dogs, burgers, and popcorn, but there are opportunities to win amazing prizes.

Serve Trip

Spring break is a much needed escape in the midst of a busy semester. Some students choose to go on exotic vacations, or home, but a group of students decided to go to the East Coast in South Carolina to help a community that was damaged by hurricanes.

Many people were blessed very much by this trip, both those on the receiving end and the giving end.

Are you Smarter than an Undergrad?

Many people know the show, “Are You Smarter Than A Fifth Grader”. This year, Academic Initiative hosted an evening called “Are You Smarter than an Undergrad?” The participants were professors that are well known and loved by their students. They were split into teams and asked questions about community life. The winning team received what many undergrads would receive in a care package: Ramen Noodles.

Spring Formal 2012

Student Activities threw yet another wonderful night of fun that was shared by many. This years formal was held at Georgio's Banquet Hall. The food was fantastic, the dancing was amazing, and the night was a highlight of the year for many.

Pops Concert

This year's Pop's Concert truly showed off the many talents of many students at Trinity. Some highlighted acts were by Brittany Homan and Fitter (Christopher) Steinke singing Billy Jean by Micheal Jackson, Jenna Brandson and her brother who sang Terrified, by Kara Dioguardi, and the group who performed the song Rivers and Roads by Head to the Heart. The night was packed full of talent and it was enjoyed by all who came.

One of the most popular events that Student Activities puts on throughout the year is movie nights. This year, one of the premiere movie events was the showing of Sherlock Holmes, Game of Shadows. The students were encouraged to dress up in disguise and the winner would win a prize. Rochelle Burks took home a new Trinity t-shirt in her winning disguise as “dirty laundry”.

Movie Night

Tibstra did a wonderful job this year in the hosting of Mr. Troll. There were many participants and many memorable moments.

Perhaps, the number one moment would be the shaving of the winner of Mr. Troll's, aka Tyler DeKoekKoek's, beard. Tyler had been growing out for over five months, and there were groups that were both thrilled and happy to see what had been a figure on campus, leave Tyler's face. Overall, it was a blast of a night that went very well.

Mr. Troll

Celebration of Asia

Trinity celebrates diversity in every aspect of the community. One way that Trinity did so this year was through the celebration of Asia. In this celebration that was sponsored by Asian American Alliance, delicious food was offered as a meal swipe and culture was shared over a delicious meal.

The Matchmaker

Laughter is one word that would easily sum up this year's Spring Play. The Matchmaker, written by Thornton Wilder, is a comical play that tells the story of several individuals who all end up crossing paths with each other in a comical, almost slap stick, type of acting. The cast did a wonderful job portraying these strange and unique characters, and brought it all together in four wonderful performances.

OPUS is one of the most anticipated days of the school year, and not only because it is a half day of class.

OPUS is a wonderful celebration of all of the student's accomplishments. Whether it be in art, education, business, or interims, it was a wonderful day. Not only did the sunshine make it so enjoyable, but it is always wonderful to be reminded of what makes Trinity a very special place to be.
